

Salvatore J. Ciresi

Mr. Salvatore J. Ciresi served two tours in the United States Marine Corps and now works full time for the U.S. military. He earned his M.A. in Theological Studies, with a Scripture concentration, from the Notre Dame Graduate School of Christendom College, where he serves on the faculty. Mr. Ciresi's ecclesiastical activities have included co-hosting "CrossTalk," a Catholic radio program formerly aired in Virginia; consultant for the Diocese of Arlington for the revision that produced the 2005 National Directory for Catechesis; serving as a board member for a private Catholic school; past columnist for the Arlington Catholic Herald; and contributor to Biblical Inerrancy: the Real Ecumenical Encounter (due 2009) with a chapter, "Biblical Inerrancy and the Church Fathers: A Concise Reference Guide to the Patristic Testimony." Mr. Ciresi at present writes a Scripture column for the periodical, The Latin Mass: The Journal of Catholic Culture and Tradition; and is the Founder and Director of The St. Jerome Biblical Guild. He resides with his wife and growing family in Spotsylvania, Virginia.