Dear Visitor:

The St. Jerome Biblical Guild doesn't engage in fund-raising appeals — our apostolate is a single-man operation that sustains itself. Still, there are two ways to support this apostolate. First, by keeping the Guild in your prayers. Second, by contributing books to the Director's library — books facilitate research for the writing and speaking aspects of The St. Jerome Biblical Guild. Many of the books cost less than $10.

It's a simple process: send an e-mail message to SalCiresi@aol.com with the subject line "Book for SJBG." Indicate the amount you want to spend on a purchase; an amount left entirely to you. You will receive a reply with a specific book or set that is needed for the library, with the accompanying purchase info. This is a transparent procedure — the purchaser knows exactly what will go to The St. Jerome Biblical Guild library (purchases are not tax deductible).

Thank you for your consideration; and don't forget those prayers.

In Christ Our Sovereign King,

Salvatore J. Ciresi
Director
The St. Jerome Biblical Guild
